

Programme Development Manager, Statutory Funding

Cross-cutting Programmes

“In the past century FFI has consistently saved species from extinction and protected habitats from destruction. Their solutions have always been practical, efficient and sustainable in local circumstances.”

Sir David Attenborough,
FFI Vice-president

Fauna & Flora International

Fauna & Flora International (FFI) saves species from extinction and habitats from destruction, whilst improving the livelihoods of local people. Our guiding principles are to work through local partnerships, act as a catalyst for change, make conservation relevant and base decisions on sound science. Founded in 1903, FFI is the world's longest established international conservation body; our conservation work, and impact, spans the globe.

The Statutory Funding Team

FFI is organised around programme delivery in four regions – Asia Pacific, Eurasia, Africa and the Americas & Caribbean. These are supported by cross-cutting programmes, focused on the technical excellence and effectiveness of FFI's conservation work, developing different approaches to conservation and ensuring their integration within the regional portfolios. The Statutory Funding team sits within the cross-cutting programmes, alongside teams working on Conservation Science & Design, Conservation Capacity & Leadership, Conservation Finance & Enterprise, Extractives & Development Infrastructure, Agricultural Landscapes, and Wildlife Trade. The Statutory Funding team focuses on positioning FFI with priority statutory donors and building knowledge and capacity of these donors across FFI, to secure new income and support excellent grant and relationship management.

The Opportunity

FFI is seeking a highly experienced professional to manage FFI's fundraising from a portfolio of statutory (government and multilateral) donors, such as DEFRA.

You will support colleagues and partners to develop high-quality proposal packages for priority donors in your portfolio, and ensure their timely submission. You will coordinate proposals and reporting internally, and ensure all documents produced for donors meet their criteria, as well as follow FFI approval and submission procedures. There is a strong capacity development element to this work, and you will share knowledge, learning and resources across FFI to maximise FFI's success rate and promote best practice in grant management and donor stewardship. You may also develop and deliver training packages, in Cambridge and potentially overseas. You will monitor FFI's activities in statutory fundraising and fund management within your portfolio, and support internal decision-making and strategy development by sharing this learning.

Experience of working with government and multilateral sources is essential for this role. You will have proven experience of securing funding from these restricted sources, and a strong understanding of how statutory donors and funding programmes support the achievement of international targets and government priorities. You need not have a background in conservation, climate, or the environment, but a proven understanding and commitment to the sector is essential. You may have worked in the non-profit sector, such as international development, or have a background in bid management, proposal development, and fundraising.

Strong relationship-management and communications skills are essential to the role, to develop positive, collaborative relationships with internal and external stakeholders, including regional teams, non-governmental partners, and government agencies. You will be diplomatic and persuasive, and your excellent interpersonal skills will enable you to coordinate people and processes to meet timelines. You will be a strong team player and enjoy working in a dynamic environment where the ability to respond swiftly to changing organisational and team needs is paramount. With a proactive and pre-emptive approach to your work, you will seek to add value and work with minimal supervision.

Fluency in written and spoken English is essential. Skills in languages relevant to FFI's programme are highly desirable. Sensitivity to the different working environments and capacities of colleagues around the world is also essential.

In return, the role offers the opportunity to work within a ground-breaking and entrepreneurial organisation, at the forefront of global conservation, with opportunity to apply your skills and expertise where appropriate. In addition, FFI offers a generous pension contribution, attractive annual leave allowance and life insurance.

Our offices are located in The David Attenborough Building in central Cambridge, just a few minutes' walk from glorious historic buildings and museums, the picturesque River Cam, the central market and shopping centre, and a host of cafés and restaurants.
